ADJUSTMENTS OF THE 2020 ACADEMIC PROGRAMME

Although the registration of both first-entering and returning students is progressing well at the University of Venda, it seems unlikely that the full quota of first-entering students will be registered by Monday 20 January 2020. Management has accordingly decided to postpone the orientation of first-year students, as well as the commencement of lectures, by one week. Orientation will now commence on Monday 27 January and lectures will commence on 30 January 2020.

The postponement will also assist the institution with addressing problems with programmes and CESM categories that are not yet entered on the academic structure, due to delays in their approval and accreditation for the establishment of a new, fully HEQSF aligned PQM. The CHE and DHET are engaged continuously in this regard.

Kind regards,
